

LAST INSTRUCTIONS

Pope is Confident End is Near—Makes Ready for its Approach.

(By Associated Press.)

ROME, July 14.—The Pope, as though feeling that the end was really approaching, has taken much trouble in giving his last instructions. This morning, speaking with evident effort to his private secretaries, Monsignors Angeli and Marzolini, His Holiness repeated the instructions previously given, that all the instructions received by him on the occasion of his jubilee in 1888, which are of the greatest value, shall be the property of the Holy See, and telling in which drawer would be found the most costly, which are to be personally delivered to his successor. With an evident feeling of sadness, the Pontiff spoke of all the sacred objects he had gathered. Although much has been said about the Pope's will, nothing positive is known, except that, on receiving his nephews, His Holiness said:

"As Pope I do not possess anything, as I live by the alms of the faithful. It would be a great detriment to the church if I should desire to my family or even the smallest part of what the people send me, by leaving themselves. As to my personal property," the Pontiff concluded, "I divided that among you long ago."

When the Pope's brother, Cardinal Giuseppe, died in 1880, Pope Leo informed his relatives that he was keeping all the family library intact, leaving them their share in money, obliging them to sign another declaration that they had received all they could claim.

Realizes End is Near.

Although the Pope's mind is not as lucid as formerly, in his brighter intervals he thoroughly realizes his imminent danger. This morning, after the visit of the doctors, who tried to conceal the gravity of the situation, the Pontiff said to his valet, Pio Centra:

"I think I know better. My time is running short. Before it is too late, I wish to speak to you."

A few minutes later, Cardinal Rampolla entered the sick room and remained fifteen minutes alone with the Pontiff. Then the latter said:

"I now wish to have the Franciscan benediction."

Fortunately Cardinal Vives y Tuto, who is Capuchin, was at the Vatican, and he entered the sick room and fulfilled the wish of the Pope, who, afterwards, said he felt relieved and easy in his mind.

The Pope was heard to say when Cardinal Rampolla left him this morning:

"I renew to you my confidence in this supreme moment."

As the morning progressed the attacks of delirium became accentuated both with regard to the length of the lucid intervals and the shortness of the lucid intervals. His mutterings during delirium were not always intelligible, but they seemed to be the history of events of many years ago, which being unknown to those present, neither Dr. Lappont nor Centra succeeded in comprehending. At times the Pope seemed to see again apparitions. When his attendants tried to persuade him to the contrary, he said that he was seeing the presence of some imaginary shadow which he not only sees, but hears.

The resistance which his frail, almost transparent body offers to disease is really marvelous.

Dr. Mazzoni was asked for an explanation, and said:

"It is a phenomenon which cannot be explained."

The doctors consider the catastrophe near.

The conditions yesterday were rather quiet than otherwise. Stone throwing is reported from each side of the river and several persons were struck, but so far as is known no serious trouble ensued.

One of the stones was thrown into a car at Tenth and Main Streets about 9:30 o'clock at night. A young man named Frank Parker, who had just come from Washington and who didn't know that there was a strike on here, was struck, and was painfully hurt. The shock of the blow he received was so great that he had to be taken to the hospital. More stone throwing was reported from Manchester, but with no result. River View line was again in evidence, but, according to reports received by Colonel Perry at the Reservoir, there was nothing serious. The guards were taken off the cars before nightfall, at the suggestion of Mr. Hester, who reported that Seventeenth Street had broken out again and that a mobman and a conductor had been badly hurt, but this report could not be verified. So far as is known, seven lines ran without incident. At all was quiet there, with the exception of a few torpedoes; the company reports from the same section a few stones thrown by small boys. One of the important events in the city was the shooting of a man at Seventh and Broad, within a square of headquarters and two squares of the Second Station.

The day was made notable in other respects by the winding up of the Manchester inquiry for the killing of Taylor. Henrico was in the forefront again. Shwanzinger, the man charged with doing the shooting from ambush in the West End, when Sergeant Pasley and others were injured, was given a preliminary hearing, and was sent on the grand jury. Damaging evidence against the prisoner was adduced by the Commonwealth. One man testified to what seemed a practical confession on the part of Shwanzinger. In the County Court, the case was called, and Judge Wickham announced that he was unable to sit. The Governor will designate another judge, and the whole matter will probably go over until the 27th.

Today the case of Moore, Muller and Cates, editors of The Opinion, will be before Justice Crutfield for trial. In Henrico Parley, chief of the strike-breakers, will be up again.

The Strike Situation.

So far as the strike itself is concerned the most important developments are the announcement of the automobile scheme by the men and the notice from the company concerning the strike.

After another enthusiastic meeting held last night President Griggs gave out the facts concerning the automobile scheme, said at length in another place. A joint strike of the men and the company, undoubtedly this week, and a business man will be placed at the head of it. About $30,000 has already been subscribed, and more is said to be forthcoming. Automobiles, with a seating capacity of twenty to twenty-five persons, will be purchased—about forty of them—and a regular service will be instituted. A five-cent fare will be charged. The men are very enthusiastic over the movement, and declare that it is not the "pipe dream" that some people declare it to be.

According to Mr. Griggs, the men are still anxious to win the strike. The report that two men have gone back to Manchester is incorrect; only one has returned from that place. Everything is going the best possible shape. What the men will do to do about the badges, buttons, etc., Mr. Griggs was unable to say. During the course of the meeting the case of Moore, Muller and Cates was discussed. He expressed the belief that the company was trying to work a big bluff, and told the men not to be alarmed at it, or to worry about it at all. If a man felt like doing so he might go ahead and throw his badge away. The company was not going to do anything. Mr. Orr was not at the meeting last night. He was at the Trades and Labor Council, the proceedings of which body were not given out for publication.

The Company's Side.

The company is eminently satisfied with the situation, and believes that it has things well in hand. An unusually large number of men are coming in every day, and more are coming in every day. It is probable that Farley and his staff of professionals will be replaced very soon. Cars are being run and are being patronized, reports to the contrary notwithstanding. Officially the company are much amused at some of the statements about the number of people who are riding. "That looks like a boy's cry, doesn't it?" asked one of them yesterday, at Seventh and Main. The car hanging on in every direction, as if their life depended on it. The next car also had every seat taken.

The chief development in the way of the company yesterday was the announcement that unless the strike-breakers return their badges and buttons by Monday and receive in return their deposits, legal proceedings against them will be instituted. The following notice in connection with this matter was issued yesterday morning:

Richmond, Va., July 14th, 1908.

NOTICE.

To Former Employees of the Virginia Passenger and Power Company.—You are hereby notified that unless the property of the Virginia Passenger and Power Company, now in your possession, is returned before Monday, July 20th, 1908, legal proceedings will be begun to recover this property. Your deposit slips will be cashed upon the return of the property.

S. W. HUFF, General Manager.

SHWANZINGER SENT ON

Evidence of His Having Fired from Ambush Regarded as Very Serious.

Of so grave a character was the evidence piled up by the Commonwealth yesterday against the man Julius Shwanzinger, charged with shooting from ambush in the West End and wounding Sergeant Pasley and others, that the magistrate sitting in the case sent him promptly on to the grand jury, with the casual remark that his jurisdiction in the matter extended only to ascertaining probable cause or suspicion of guilt, and that there was more than mere suspicion of guilt.

In fact, although the Commonwealth did not exert itself particularly, and did not reserve a number of witnesses to introduce, the case was not yet introduced at all, the preliminary hearing of the case of Shwanzinger went hard and strong against the prisoner. On his side he introduced a number of witnesses, but the Commonwealth there was presented a lot of damaging testimony, the most serious of which is a practical confession of guilt made by the man a few days ago to a detective.

The Examination.

As stated yesterday morning, Shwanzinger was arrested Monday night by Officers Green and Branch, and was taken to the county jail, where he stayed all night. It was impossible at that hour to apply for bail, since the matter would be taken up by the grand jury. Since the examination yesterday, however, which throws the case off until the grand jury term in September, it has been decided to ask for bail, and application was made before Judge Wickham. The attorneys for the prisoner are Mr. Edward L. Ryan and Mr. James R. Russell.

Squire Lewis conducted the preliminary hearing. The defense introduced no witnesses whatsoever; the Commonwealth, which was looked after by Mr. Alex. Sands, had several, two or three of whom gave most damaging testimony against the prisoner. And this, it is understood, is not all. Several of the witnesses, it is said, were not brought out at all on the preliminary hearing, but will be held over until the trial.

Among those who testified yesterday were the motorman Medinger, who testified as to his wound; Officer Green, as to the finding of shells on the sidewalk; the driver of the car, who testified that he saw the man who shot at him; and a man named Bennie Gooden, who testified that he saw the man who shot at him. Shwanzinger before, and he was thereupon told to stand aside.

Sedden Duke, a bright little fellow, son of Officer Duke, was called on by the Commonwealth. He said he knew Shwanzinger, because the man had cut the ears of his bull pup for him about a month ago. On the night of the shooting he saw the man about an hour before the shooting, on Lombardy Street, on Main. The prisoner asked him if his bull pup had been to death yet, and upon his reply that it had not, said that this was the case, and that he was thereupon told to stand aside.

Practical Confession.

The next and last witness was the father of Sedden, Officer C. D. Duke, whose testimony was given in the County Court last night. On the evening of the shooting Mr. Duke said he conveyed a telephone message from Colonel Vaughan to Captain Couch, who was stationed at the Main Street station. He said that he was there until about 10 o'clock. When he came back on his way down the street toward his home, which is not quite a square away, he saw Shwanzinger. He said that he saw him in the alley which leads behind the row of houses from which the shots are supposed to have come. This was about 10 o'clock. The shooting began about twenty minutes later.

AUTOMOBILE LINE

Strikers Say They Have About Forty Thousand Available.

Within the next week or two, if the plans of the striking street-car men materialize, automobiles will be whizzing about two streets of Richmond connecting here and there with bus lines, and there will be in operation a new and novel street service, instituted with the idea of making the city more convenient for the passenger and power company.

The scheme is a radical one, and strikes many as being far-fetched. Mr. Griggs, in his earnest and very enthusiastic.

According to the statement of President Griggs last night, the stock company will be formed, with shares of $1 each, no member to hold more than fifty such shares.

Mr. Griggs said that efforts among the men have succeeded in securing subscriptions of thirty thousand dollars, and that as much more can be obtained if thought desirable. A meeting of all those who have subscribed, he said, will be held on Monday and a company will be formed and officers will be elected.

A business man will be placed at the head of the company, and will be in charge of the operation. The plan of operation is to establish a line of automobiles, with a seating capacity of twenty to twenty-five persons. They will be established in a line, and will be run by a company, which will be in charge of the operation. They will be established in a line, and will be run by a company, which will be in charge of the operation.

Two circulars following have been issued by the strikers. They will give some further facts in connection with the proposed scheme.

F. K. Gaff, of No. 823 East Marshall Street, Richmond, Va., and J. B. Adams, of No. 211 Porter Street, Manchester, are named as those in charge of the affair.

EDITORS MULLEN AND CATES

Hearing of Their Libel Case 9:30 This Morning.

The first case to be called in the Police Court this morning will be that of Editors W. F. Mullen and Sidney Cates, of The Opinion, charged with libeling the good name and character of Superintendent J. B. Buchanan, of the Passenger and Power Company, by printing an affidavit that he was traveling under an assumed name.

Squire Graves will hear the case. The Commonwealth will be represented by Mr. Richardson, Mr. Buchanan, of the company, while Colonel M. T. Lewis will defend the Opinion's editorial staff.

It is believed that the examination will be gone into not only by witnesses for thought by many. Dr. Jere Witherspoon, of the Grace-Street Presbyterian Church, who has known the man for a long time, will be free to testify for his friend to that effect.

CASE OF SOLOMON

Governor to Be Asked to Appoint a Judge to Preside.

As anticipated yesterday morning, Judge Wickham will not sit in the case of Sheriff Simon Solomon, of Henrico county, for alleged malfeasance and misfeasance of office. Governor Montague, as soon as he is officially notified of the facts will appoint a judge to hear the matter, which will be gone into at this time of the court if possible.

The first time the matter was taken yesterday morning, when the long petition of the Passenger and Power Company was presented to the court, Major Martin was present, and he behaved as plaintiff and Mr. Hill Carter for the defendant. As soon as the case was called Judge Wickham made a formal statement to the effect that he was unable to serve, and that some other judge would have to be chosen. Judge Wickham will probably be a witness for one or both sides in the case. Mr. Carter asked that immediate steps be taken to secure the other judge, that the case may be gone into at an earlier date, and to this proposition Major Martin assented, declaring that the company was ready to proceed. Thereupon the case was issued by the court, announcing the inability of the judge to serve, which order was the last before the Governor at the earliest opportunity. What judge will be chosen to sit cannot be said. It is understood that Judge Clifton, of Chockley, who has been suggested, will himself be unable to serve.

If the appointment by the Governor is made in time, the case will probably be called again on next Friday. At that time Mr. Solomon, through his counsel, will ask that it be put off until the 27th inst. He is anxious to go to Baltimore, and will be back some days before that time. He is, on the other hand, very anxious that the matter be settled this term of the court.

The Labor Council.

The Trades and Labor Council decided after a full and lengthy session last night to stand by the Opinion, the labor paper, of which Mr. Mullen, secretary of the council, is one of the editors. With a view to putting this decision into practical operation it declined to give out any paper an account of the evening's happenings.

The question of the strike, however, was up for discussion. Officers for the next six months were also elected.

Put Off the Car.

William Yount, Staunton soldier, was put off a car on Seventh Street yesterday morning, and was injured. The car was driven by a man who was not a member of the labor council, and had to be taken to the Old Dominion Hospital.

Another Murder Trial, Possibly.

The Hustling Court, just out a murder trial, will possibly have another if John Smith, colored, is caught. John is charged with having shot a man, a colored man, on last Saturday night near the corner of Foushee and Canal Streets. The woman was so seriously wounded that she died at the hospital. An inquest was held by the coroner yesterday afternoon and the jury fixed upon Smith.

FEW COMPLAINTS OF UNJUST TAXES

Third Regiment Encampment. Southern has Trouble in Locating Trails.

(Special to the Times-Dispatch.)

GREENSBORO, N. C., July 14.—The County Commissioners met yesterday as a Board of Equalization to hear objections made by owners of property as to the assessment for taxes made against the same.

There were not very many complaints heard, the most important being connected until the first Tuesday in August.

The property of the Fentress Gold Mining Company, which was formerly assessed at $2,200, was this year raised to $20,000. This, the company says, is unjust, and a strong fight will be made to get it reduced to the old price of farm land property, plus the machinery.

Another strong kick comes from the Southern Railway Company. The State Corporation Commission assesses that property, but the County Commissioners, for the first time as far as is known, have completed the number of miles of private sidings to the various stores, factories and mills in the county, and on Seventh and Broad, within a square of headquarters and two squares of the Second Station.

The railroad industry, which these spurs and sidings are in contemplation of law, is an integral part of its main line, and is embraced in the valuation assessed by the State Corporation Commission. The railroad will also be heard at the next meeting, at which time Vice-President Andrews will be present to lead in the protest.

The Executive Committee of the State Normal and Industrial College contemplated putting in a complete overhaul of the bids of contractors, the cost, $9,000, and more, was found to be too high. They could not find a contractor willing to take the job. Another meeting will be held to examine revised bids, calling for the foundation of the system and the putting in of a new heating system. If the money on hand will justify, leaving it so that extensions can be added in the future.

The third meeting of the contractors' North Carolina guards will encamp at Greensboro, August 12th. The decision in favor of Greensboro was unanimous. Raleigh, Durham and Salisbury were active competitors. The camp will be just west of Lindley Park, in a beautiful oak grove, with about 200 acres of drill ground in about 200 yards. It will have electric lights and be furnished with water by pipes from J. Van Lueders reservoir, at Pomona, half mile distant.

The boys will be right at the Casino, where good music is being played. There will be dancing every night; right at the dancing pavilion, where the light fantastic is tripped nightly; right at a splendid ball game, where the boys will be free to testify for his friend to that effect.
